Settlement Speculation. COLUMBUS, O., Aug. 14.-The local lodge of the Amalgamated Association of Iron, Steel and Tin Workers have received information which lends color to the story that a settlement of the strike is in prospect. They held a meeting to take action on the appeal for financial assistance which had been sent out by the national officials and were preparing to make a contribution for the support of the strike, when they received word not to do anything until they received further information. The local men refuse to say what the communication contained other than the above, or to say from whom it came. The matter has caused a great deal of speculation here and the steel workers are in anticipation of an

be waging war against the Amalgamated Association, but it did not begin the war. The new exactions came in the first instance from President Shaffer. It was he who demanded the consent of the steel corporation to go into the nonunion mills to organize unions, and when it would not consent to this it was Shaffer who declared war, and he cannot now throw the burden of that act on the other side simply because it is fighting back. A man or an organization or a nation that is attacked cannot be held responsible for the attack simply because of blows returned or counter attacks made. The aggressor in a contest may not be in the wrong, but he does not help his case by saying the other WROUGHT IRON party began it. In fact, it shows weakness in his case when he wants to shift it from

So, too, his mean fling at the workingmen who have refused to strike—that they are "working in the slave pens of the trust and have not spirit enough to come out and join the strikers," will not strengthen his line of battle nor bring him reinforcements. The mills are no more "slave pens" now than they were two months ago, when everybody was happily at work, or than they will be a few months hence, when all have returned to work. Why should such insulting epithets be used? Does Mr. Shaffer expect that by abusing his fellow-workmen he can lash them out of the mills and force them to support him? If he does he shows a plentiful lack of knowledge of human nature. But that is what he shown from the beginning. If he had known the men against whom he planned this war he never would have begun it until he had thoroughly prepared himself. The Western men, who have re-fused to joir in this most ill-judged labor war, have the right on their side, and are sustained not only by their own approving consciences, but by the vast majority of public sentiment

Officials Anxious to Know When Chinese Protocol Will Be Effective.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 14 .- A dispatch was late to-night made the authorities sussent from the State Department to Mr. Rockhill to-day stating it was of importance for the department to know when the Chinese protocol would be signed. The importance attached to the actual date of signing is in connection with the time when the new tariff arrangement becomes effective, as Mr. Rockhill has reported that the 5 per cent. ad valorem will be put into force two months after the signing of the final protocol, except on goods shipped within ten days after signing. Mr. Rockhill's intention to leave Peking soon, as reported in press cables, is in line with the purpose he communicated to the State Department about three weeks ago of leaving on Aug. 15. Now that an agree-ment on the final protocol has been reached it is hardly felt that Mr. Rockhill's presence is necessary at the signing, as Mr. Conger will be at Peking soon.
